THE EEOC IS CLOSING ITS FILE ON THIS CHARGE FOR THE FOLLOWING REASON:

The facts alleged in the charge fail to state a claim under any of the statutes enforced by the EEOC.

Your allegations did not involve a disability as defined by the Americans With Disabilities Act.

The Respondent employs less than the required number of employees or is not otherwise covered by the statutes.

Your charge was not timely filed with EEOC; in other words, you waited too long after the date(s) of the alleged discrimination to file your charge.

Having been given 30 days in which to respond, you failed to provide information, failed to appear or be available for interviews/conferences, or otherwise failed to cooperate to the extent that it was not possible to resolve your charge.

While reasonable efforts were made to locate you, we were not able to do so.

You were given 30 days to accept a reasonable settlement offer that affords full relief for the harm you alleged.

The EEOC issues the following determination: Based upon its investigation, the EEOC is unable to conclude that the information obtained establishes violations of the statutes. This does not certify that the respondent is in compliance with the statutes. No finding is made as to any other issues that might be construed as having been raised by this charge.

The EEOC has adopted the findings of the state or local fair employment practices agency that investigated this charge.

Patricia Harris-Lee

Position Statement

Patricia Harris-Lee has been employed by Sony BMG Music Entertainment, Inc. ("Sony") for over 15 years from September of 1991 to December of 2006. Mrs. Harris-Lee's last position with Sony was as an Associate Director of Advertising Management in the Advertising and Marketing Services Department. During all of Mrs. Harris-Lee's employment at Sony, her performance evaluations have been consistently noted as outstanding and satisfactory.

On March 31, 2006, her immediate supervisor and a Senior Director, a Caucasian woman named Barbara Warnock-Morgan physically attacked Mrs. Harris-Lee causing her to sustain back and neck injuries. This attack was totally unprovoked. On April 3, (three days following the attack) Mrs. Warnock-Morgan accused Mrs. Harris-Lee of orchestrating a departmental meeting on March 30, in her absence (Mrs. Warnock-Morgan was out of the office for on-going medical issues) to undermine Mrs. Warnock-Morgan's management decisions. This claim by Mrs. Warnock-Morgan was totally unsubstantiated.

However, during the meeting on March 30, Mrs. Warnock-Morgan became extremely angry and confrontational with members of the management staff while departmental and reconstruction concerns were being addressed. Mrs. Warnock-Morgan began to yell and curse at the manager and at Mrs. Harris-Lee. This attack was also unprovoked. While witnessing Mrs. Warnock-Morgan's "bizarre outburst," Mrs. Harris-Lee sat speechless and shocked. Mrs. Harris-Lee and staff members, then politely asked Mrs. Warnock-Morgan to compose herself so that the staff meeting could continue. No other exchanges were made between Mrs. Harris-Lee and Mrs. Warnock-Morgan during this meeting.

On April 3 and 17, 2006, Mrs. Harris-Lee reported the attack to Kathleen Kelly and Dan Alcock in the Human Resources Department. As of the filing of this charge, no one in the Human Resources Department has taken any action against Mrs. Warnock-Morgan. Furthermore, even after this vicious attack and the report to Human Resources, Mrs. Harris-Lee was forced to continue to work under direct supervision of Mrs. Warnock-Morgan and cover her work load, while she took paid unscheduled vacation days.

When Mrs. Harris-Lee continually voiced her fears and displeasure of working hand-in-hand on a daily basis with Mrs. Warnock-Morgan to Human Resources, the Department's stance was that Mrs. Harris-Lee needed to endure through her work assignments with Mrs. Warnock-Morgan and wait for the outcome of their investigation into her assault.

From April 4 until May 26, all Mrs. Harris-Lee's emails and phone calls to Kathleen Kelly from Human Resources went unanswered. Again, as of this filing of this charge, Sony and its Human Resources Department have not taken any action against Mrs. Warnock-Morgan. Furthermore, Sony has not offered any possible resolution of the situation to Mrs. Harris-Lee or assumed any professional responsibility for safeguarding her mental and physical health and safety while she has work on their promises; as outlined in the company's policy manual (copy furnished upon request).

Additionally, it should be noted that Sony has a zero tolerance policy against violence in the work place. Such acts usually result in immediate termination of the perpetrator. Most importantly, there is no dispute that Mrs. Warnock-Morgan assaulted Mrs. Harris-Lee because she admitted the assault on a telephone message she left on Mrs. Harris-Lee answering machine shortly after the attack.

On the message, Mrs. Warnock-Morgan asks Mr. Harris-Lee's forgiveness and blames her attack on Mrs. Harris-Lee on steroid medications she was taking. Mrs. Warnock-Morgan clearly states that she has experience violent mood swings ("I have a wear-wolf condition I can't control") in the past seven weeks. Mrs. Warnock-Morgan also admitted to attacking several other people during a violent rage just days prior to assaulting Mrs. Harris-Lee. Mrs. Harris-Lee has copies of this message (copies provided upon request). It should also be noted that Sony has a policy that prohibits the use any controlled substance while on company premises. All employees are obligated to report any drug use, legal or illegal, that may prohibit job performance or fitness for duty. Violation of this policy may result in immediate termination or suspension without pay.

On May 30, 2006, on the advise of her physician, Mrs. Harris-Lee took a medical leave of absence. It was the physician's medical opinion that the emotional stress of working in a hostile work environment, along with being ignored by Sony and its Human Resources Department, and the fear of working with Mrs. Warnock-Morgan was further exacerbating Mrs. Harris-Lee's mental and physical condition. Mrs. Harris-Lee had become non-responsive to the medical treatments she was receiving since the assault.

On June 6, 2006, Mrs. Harris-Lee unexpectedly learned that she had been removed from Sony's payroll. Except for vacation pay (15 days) in June, she has not received any paychecks since this date. It should be noted that Mrs. Harris-Lee is entitled to receive ninety percent (90%) of her salary while on leave through her long-term disability policy.

However, due to Sony's objections, Mrs. Harris-Lee disability and workers compensation benefits have all been denied pending trial decision. Thus, Mrs. Harris-Lee has gone unpaid for over six (6) months. It should also be noted that upon being denied disability benefits in June, Mrs. Harris-Lee has yet to receive a copy of the company's definition of disability and its policy provided by CIGNA even after numerous requested.

Based on the foregoing reasons, Mrs. Harris-Lee charges that Sony and its Human Resources Department, has deliberately disregarded their own company policies (policy #24 and #25 of the Sony Manual) in an effort to protect Mrs. Warnock-Morgan. Additionally, Sony committed unlawful discriminatory practices relating to Mrs. Harris-Lee's employment solely based on her race/color, disability and of opposed discrimination and retaliation in violation of the New York State Human Rights Law. Furthermore, Sony has also violated Mrs. Harris-Lee's civil rights under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (covering race, color, sex relating to employment). Lastly, Sony is also in violation of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) that covers disability relating to employment.
